

Puzzle #1: Did I Nod? Egged on, I did!

This morning I wanted to cook myself a hearty egg-based meal but found that my kitchen was quite the mess. Having so many things cluttering up the place was not very conducive to preparing breakfast, but it did yield an interesting puzzle. In the blanks below can you list the fourteen things pictured here? They are not shown in order (I'm not even sure why some of these items were in my kitchen). If you correctly list them along with the type of dish I was planning to make, you'll be able to crack this puzzle wide open. How are you supposed to know the proper order of those fifteen things? Start by carefully looking at this puzzle's title...
