

Puzzle #6: Humpty Dumpty

Poor Humpty Dumpty. All of the King's horses and all of the King's men may be quite capable at a heroic adventure like slaying a dragon or rescuing a princess, but none of them seems to be able to reassemble the broken egg-man. Maybe you can lend a hand?

Included with your puzzle materials are twenty-two paper pieces in a small bag. Can you arrange them into the egg-shape below? The pieces are double sided, meaning that either side of each is allowed to be face up in the final assembly. If you are able to present an assembled Humpty Dumpty to Eric (at his house), he will show you the Clutch-of-Eggs sticker that you need to submit for credit.

Note that this puzzle is "timed" like all of the others for which you hunt down stickers. As soon as the first team submits an answer, the clock begins ticking for the others teams, and this puzzle's value slowly decrements.
