

Puzzle #9: Egg On My Facebook

Subject: Egg On My Facebook
Date: Sat, 11 April 2014 17:56:10 -0600
From: B.E. <eggman@yolkmusic.org>
To: eric harshbarger <eric@ericharshbarger.org>

Eric,

Thanks for helping me get that whole "Facebook issue" sorted out. I finally managed to get my profile page set up, and have spent a few days updating my history and so forth. Facebook sure can be puzzling to "newbies" like myself, but I think I have all of the various account settings, privacy settings, and so forth exactly how I want them.

Really, I just want to be able to share photos with family and friends. And, of course, I hope to participate in level-headed political discussions with others; that's what Facebook is for, right?

Anyway, I've sent you a "Friend Request," so I hope you'll accept that promptly.

Your "egg-ceptional" friend,

- B.E.

P.S.: Oh, also, I did finally manage to hide that "Clutch-of-Eggs" sticker somewhere in Auburn as you requested. I hope the Puzzle Partiers are able to figure out where I stashed it!

