

Puzzle 13: A Fool And His Money

Bozo may be a clown but he knows how to manage his finances. He also knows about all of the hidden stores around Auburn that cater to jesters, jokers, and the like. Recently he spent a whole weekend searching out the best prices in town for the items on his shopping list. Next week he plans to make the purchases and fulfill his lifelong dream of performing as a one-clown, vaudevillian, traveling circus. Of course, when he finalizes his budget, he'll have to remember that the City of Auburn will want its cut...
